

I am a Muslim
It's not a person, it's a thing that we believe that a person could be.
A normal person who helped others, doesn't know if he had healing powers
A normal man, who was helping a lot of people
Historical figure
I can't nail it down to one person. That's not the point.
A guy who influenced a lot of people in a positive way
Preacher during the reign of Augustus.
A baby was born, but Mary started the religion
He was helping people out who were in need. // I think of Jesus as Christmas and church.
A spiritual person that is good at marketing himself? Some guy who has some good ideas and tried to spread them across
Very influential man with good intentions
Either a revolutionary or he didn't exist
A normal human being that people admired.
He indeed was a person and did exist. A Good Samaritan.
Jesus is a prophet
A spiritual being
I don't think Jesus is a person but a concept
One of many Jewish cult leaders who happened to succeed in growing a cult.
Jesus would be a role model because the way he did in the short time of his life was good.
He was a good person, but not distinct in any way
Some things are given, some are not. If he was living, he would be very neutral. He definitely had a big influence.
Spiritual leader
I believe in Him.
a legendary charakter, not real
Jesus is God who came on earth to resurrect us, Savior, connection between earth and heaven
I don't think he's anything
A prophet
A prophet
I don't believe in God or Jesus
Savior, friend to people
Maybe someone to look up to. He acts like you should act.
I don't know

A man in a big story
I am my own Jesus, the one responsible for my destiny
A best friend for many, someone who wanted to do good in the world
An interesting person with interesting ideas
I don't know, I am not sure if he existed
He is a prophet
I think all people can be Jesus
A savior
No one to me.
Someone who wanted to show the world that there was a different way to live.
He was a prophet. He was a recognized religious person and advocate for a certain philosophy.
A human guy
Something with us that brings out the good in us
Something that is always there. Maybe not necessarily God.
Wonderful
Someone who did good for the world
I don't believe Jesus is a person a carpenter
The one who showed hope to the hopeless, and who demonstrated the power of love.
I haven't thought about it
I don't know.
Very nice concept for us humans to contemplate...a historical person that we have made into kind of a mythic figure
A (great) spiritual leader a kind-hearted person
used to be evangelical, but too conservative
I am a muslim
A fictional character, we can't know how he really was. There's a lot of stories around. He was inspiring.
Hope
He is not a person!
A person just like us who was really good at giving love, even if he was not loved. The difference between him and us is that he could love when he was not loved
Is he a real person or some made up thing
An open-minded person trying to turn things around
A historical person who died 2000 years ago. Period, the end.

A historical figure
Not the guy in the Bible. More of a general concept that you can talk to about your faults that helps you be the best person of yourself. Someone you can bring your problems to that you don't want to talk to anyone else about. But not the guy in the Bible.
A person who God sent us
Young man in his 30's, like the pictures. Not necessarily a person.
Jesus was more like a hippie and there was no way he was white.
Jesus is an iconic figure
A very charismatic person who was convincing and also very convinced about himself.
A person
A good person, with a great aura
Jesus is like an energizing cloud/power.
A very special person
A wise person who existed
Son of God
Son of God, he is closest to God
Prophet
I think there's something up there
Historical figure who had an influence on the time
Historical figure who had an influence on the time
There was a person like Him, but not the way it says in the Bible
He is not a person
Jesus is the Son of God
He is some type of Savior!
A Jew but the founder of Christianity
A prophet
I don't know for sure
He was a person. People trusted his vision and his positions on things. To this day, people still do trust him.
No clue
A popular individual in that area, might have been charismatic
From a historical perspective, he was a human being. From a religious perspective, he was the Son of God.
Don't know if he ever existed.
a kind-hearted guy who was nice to everybody, without prejudices
I don't know

Love
A spiritual person; an optimist
I don't believe
Son of God. Doctor.
I don't know
Some kind of revolutionary
Gods son. A prophet
He was a historical figure but also just someone in a story.
I don't really know; I am trying to figure it out
I don't have an answer
Jesus was a very nice carpenter.
A fictional character
I am a muslim
A real person who tried to make the world a better place.
Son of God, just a normal human being.
He existed but I don't think that everything that's written in the Bible is true.
Someone who inspires people, a role model
A good person and human being
A prophet
A historical figure
A good version of a human being